

11.1 SCBC Disputes and Complaints Policy for Parents

INTRODUCTION

The relationship between home and school plays an important part in a child's education.

The critical role parents play in successful learning: parents contribute much to their child's development and are among the most important influences on the way in which the child approaches learning.

Teachers are responsible for the more formal aspects of children's learning, and successful teaching builds on the home experiences of the child. This is most effective where there is an active partnership with parents.

Two-way communication is a critical factor in the partnership between parents and the college. Where a partnership exists, it is easier for parents to feel confident about the teaching and learning taking place in the classroom and to solve problems.

You are welcome to talk to your child's teacher, however, you should always make an appointment to arrange a mutually convenient time.

What can you do if you have a concern, problem or complaint?

- Seeking information as early as possible can solve many problems. If you have any questions or concerns about your child's progress, the homework set or assessment procedures, contact the classroom teacher.
- You can have a friend or adviser present during any discussion.
- You may prefer to take the matter to a more senior member of staff, for example the relevant Deputy Head, Head of School or the Principal.

What to do when you have a problem

- Try to identify the problem clearly before coming to the College. If there is more than one problem, list them to ensure that the extent of the problem is clear to the College.
- Decide whether the problem is a concern, an enquiry or a complaint. This will help in finding a solution.

- Make an appointment to talk with the teacher. If your concern is about the conduct of a teacher, make the effort to speak with the teacher concerned so they can reflect and respond. If it doesn't resolve, speak to their Line Manager and/or the relevant Head of School. If your concern relates to a non-teaching staff member, try speaking to the staff member first so they can have an opportunity to respond. If it's unresolved, you may prefer to discuss the matter with the non-teaching staff member's line manager.

PURPOSE

A commitment to responding positively to complaints characterises South Coast Baptist College. In particular, the partnership between parents and the College is a strong and reliable feature of our college community. Parents and other school community members must be confident that staff will listen and respond to their needs and concerns.

We have an 'Open Door' policy at South Coast Baptist College, where parents are valued and involved with the school and are encouraged to voice their concerns. It is better to have a direct complaint to a member of staff than to have parents sharing their dissatisfaction with others.

This Policy sets out the process for students, parents, members of the community, volunteers and College staff to have enquiries, concerns, and complaints addressed by the staff, the management team, the Executive Team, and/or the Chairperson of The Board.

Resolution of complaints will be addressed by the teacher, management, the College's Executive Team, and/or the College Board. Complaints of various kinds may also be lodged outside the College with agencies such as the Equal Opportunity Commission, the Western Australian Police Service and the Crime & Corruption Commission.

Principles Underlying the Policy

The following principles apply to the management of all complaints:

- The process is accessible to all aggrieved parties and is underpinned by a commitment to co-operate on the part of South Coast Baptist College staff.
- Procedural fairness is afforded to all parties.
- The subject of the complaint is informed of the substance of the complaint.
- Vexatious, trivial or previously finalised issues are not pursued.
- Warranted investigation will be pursued with or without the active involvement of the complainant.
- Confidentiality is maintained, to the extent that it is consistent with legislative requirements and the other principles outlined in this section.
- Complaints are monitored and their management is evaluated to reduce the occurrence of systemic and recurring problems. It is the responsibility of an Executive Team member (e.g. Principal, Executive Assistant, Director of Childcare, Executive Business Manager, Head of Primary or Head of Secondary) to ensure that this evaluation occurs, although in certain instances this review and evaluation process can be delegated. Evaluation of the management process of a complaint should occur within one (1) month of final resolution and any recommendation(s) considered for inclusion in Policy revision.

- In all matters, the educational wellbeing of students is the first priority and guiding imperative.
- All persons in the College community including students, parents, administrators, teachers and support staff, have a right to be treated with respect and courtesy.
- Complainants are able to make enquiries, raise concerns or lodge complaints about the provision of education or the conduct of South Coast Baptist College staff and have these dealt with efficiently, fairly and promptly.
- Information about the process for making enquiries, raising concerns or complaints is to be available to parents, students and members of the local community.

SCOPE:

Students, parents, members of the community, and South Coast Baptist College staff are entitled to have their complaints addressed by teachers, management, the Executive Team, and/or the College Board.

What may be complained about?

A complaint is an expression of dissatisfaction with a real or perceived problem. A complaint may be made about:

- a. The provision of education;
- b. Failure to meet expectations;
- c. Perceived unfairness or impoliteness; or
- d. The conduct of any South Coast Baptist College employee.

How the complaint will be handled?

Complaints will be handled promptly, within five (5) business days, confidentially and following procedural fairness and the principles of natural justice (e.g. the right to be heard and the right of response; and that the decision maker should not be biased or be seen to be biased).

Persons who are the subject of a complaint, who make a complaint or provide information in the course of an investigation into a complaint shall not be subject to prejudice, intimidation, and harassment or be subject to any detriment because of their involvement.

The outcome of formal disciplinary processes commenced against an employee as a consequence of a complaint being received is confidential between the employee and the employee's line manager/s at the time. Complainants will not be informed of the outcome in such matters due to confidentiality requirements.

Appropriate confidentiality is to be observed in any discussion of complaints. This means that the College these matters must remain confidential between the employee and his/her line manager and any other parties who have a legitimate interest in the process. - Repeat your understanding of the problem, acknowledging the complainant's feelings or clarifying the problem. It is important to focus on the problem and not on finding fault or blame.

- Agree on action and timelines.
- Record the complaint, the action and the outcome.
- Review the situation and confirm with the student/parent/staff member that the matter is resolved.

As soon as possible, clarify your understanding of the problem, identify action and timelines in writing and include a name and contact number. Respond to all issues raised.
- Take action within agreed or appropriate timelines.
- Record the complaint, the action and the outcome.
- Review the situation and confirm with the student/parent/staff member that the matter has been resolved.

Guidelines for Mediation and Conciliation

The primary focus of mediation is to reach a fair and workable agreement with the parties in conflict. It should be a voluntary process with parties agreeing to mediation and taking responsibility for making decisions throughout the process.

Pre-Mediation

The process of pre-mediation involves:

- The mediator meets with each party individually and listens to their perspective on the situation.
- Checking the person's 'emotional readiness' to participate in mediation.
- Discussing and finalising the agenda for the mediation; what are the key concerns and what requests do they wish to make of the other party? How best might they phrase these concerns and requests to ensure the best possible outcome?
- Anticipating what the other party might raise and how the individual will respond.
- Discussing the ground rules for successful mediation.
- Seeking commitment to the mediation process.

If parties are in agreement, then mediation proceeds. Only two people are generally involved in mediation. Therefore, with three parties, either two or three mediators will be required.

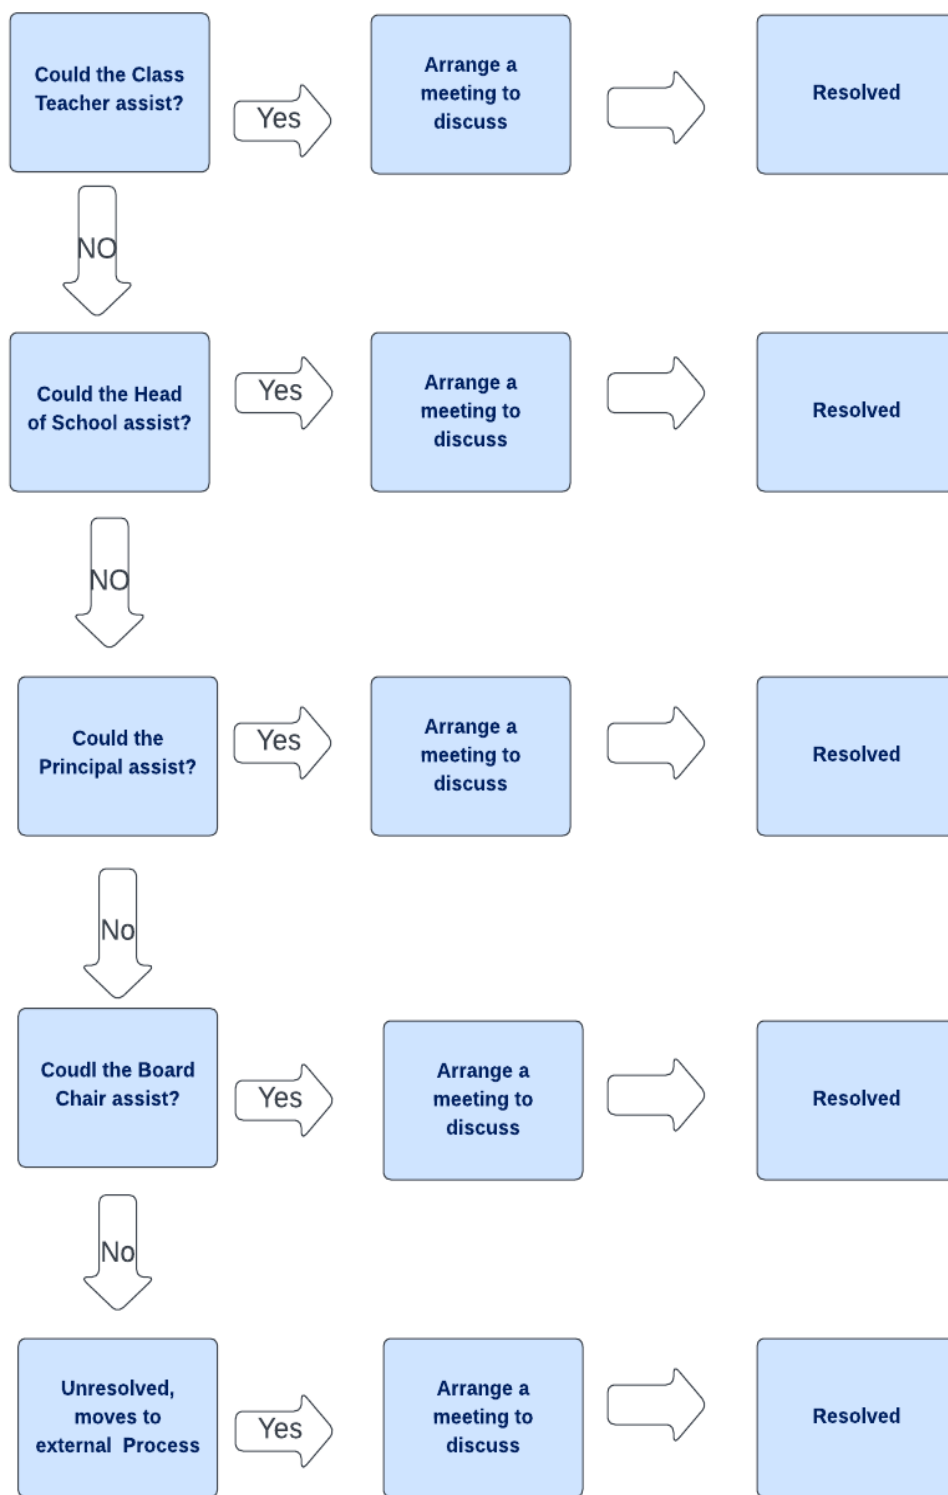

Mediation

- Brief meetings are held with each party immediately prior to joint meeting to confirm the parties' readiness to proceed and that agenda is still appropriate.
- Mediator introduces the process to the parties.
- Ground rules developed and/or reinforced.
- Each party presents a statement or request from the agenda in turn and clarifies as necessary.
- Parties develop options to address/resolve the point being discussed (only move on to next point when some agreement or understanding is demonstrated).
- A written document is developed stating the outcome of the mediation, the agreement reached between the parties and recommendations for further action.
- A review period is agreed.

If appropriate, the line manager can be invited in at the end of the mediation meeting to be advised of the outcome, and discuss their role in monitoring the agreement to clarify any outstanding organisational issues.

Note: If the complaint/grievance is between the Head of School and Principal or the complaint involves the Principal, the matter is to be placed in the hands of the Board Chairperson.

At times there may be a decision to refer a matter to the Equal Opportunity Commission, the Western Australian Police Service, Child Protection Agencies and the Crime & Corruption Commission. In such instances the Principal will be part of the decision making and action taken expediently.

The Director General of the Department of Education is responsible for ensuring that the school observes the registration standards, including the standard of its complaints handling system. Any student, parent or community member is entitled to contact the Director General with concerns about how the school has dealt with a complaint. Information is available on the Department of Education website. While the Director General may consider whether the school has breached the registration standards, the Director General does not have power to intervene in a complaint or override the school's decision.

IMPLEMENTATION

Lodging a Complaint

A person may complain verbally or in writing to a Teacher, Head of School, the Principal, or in writing to the Chairperson of the Board, PO Box 8465, Warnbro, WA 6169

A person lodging a complaint may choose to have a support person present.

A person making a written complaint must provide his or her name, address and details of the complaint. To submit a complaint, please use the following link: Feedback & Complaints or find the link on our College website.

Where the complaint involves possible criminal implications and child protection issues, the matter will be referred to the appropriate investigating body (Police, Child Protection Agencies).

Withdrawal of a Complaint

A person who has made a complaint may withdraw the complaint at any time. A written complaint should preferably be withdrawn in writing. However, a signed and dated notation on the complaint by an employee that it has been withdrawn by the complainant will suffice. A verbal complaint may be withdrawn verbally and a notation made to that effect.

The staff member who received the complaint is to give notice in writing to any parties affected by the complaint that it has been withdrawn. Complaints that warrant investigation must be pursued even though the complaint has been withdrawn.

Management of Complaints

When a teacher, Head of School, and/or an Executive Team member receives a complaint, that officer will implement strategies to resolve the complaint, if appropriate to do so. An Executive Team member may provide advice to the complainant on possible strategies to resolve the matter.

Employees who are the subject of a complaint are to be informed of the substance of the complaint within three (3) business days. Complaints against employees should be sufficiently detailed so as to enable the employee to respond to the allegations against them. A detailed description of the incident/s, the alleged time and place where the incident/s allegedly occurred and the names of any possible witnesses to the incident/s should be provided, wherever possible.

Documenting/recording the substance and process of resolving these complaints must occur.

If a verbal complaint is complex or very serious, the complainant may be required to restate the complaint in writing or sign a written summary prepared by an Executive Team member.

All written complaints lodged with an Executive Team member will be acknowledged in writing within five (5) business days and shall include what action is being taken to remedy or resolve the nature of the complaint. There after the complainant will be informed of subsequent actions should this not breach any other policy, law or endanger the welfare of others. A written report will be provided to the complainant signed by the Executive Team member.

An Executive Team member can reject a complaint that in their opinion is vexatious, trivial or without substance; or does not warrant further action taking into account the provisions of this Policy. Details of these complaints should be recorded in case there is a pattern of complaints that warrant consideration at a later date.
